What is the latest news from Vermont’s Emergency Management?

- New York City Residents or Recent Travelers. Now that the greater New York City area has been deemed a COVID-19 hotspot, the CDC recommends that any one who has been in that area recently quarantine for a period of 14 days. All second-home owners and residents who have been in the greater NYC area of late are requested to follow the CDC recommendations in order to minimize the spread of the disease here in Woodstock. Please see the section below about self-quarantine. If you need supplies, volunteers will deliver them to your door.

- The U.S. Department of State issued a global health advisory advising U.S. citizens to avoid all international travel. The U.S./Canadian and U.S./Mexico borders are closed to non-essential travel.

- Amtrak service in the State of Vermont is suspended.

- The supply chain for certain products and food categories is struggling but is trying to keep up with demand. There is plenty of supply of these products and it will get to our shelves soon. The CDC advises families to have 2-weeks worth of food on hand, as do experts at Johns Hopkins University, and the Federal Emergency Management Agency.
