Can I get tested for COVID-19?
Anyone without symptoms can now be tested for FREE at a pop-up location. Health care workers, first responders and childcare providers and people who have attended recent demonstrations are encouraged to get tested. People who are returning to Vermont, and who are at day 7 or later in their quarantine period, can also be tested. Find testing locations and dates and register for a test here.

Call your health care provider if you or your children have any of these symptoms: cough, fever, shortness of breath, chills, muscle pain, headache, sore throat, loss of taste or smell. Your health care provider will ensure you receive proper care and treatment. If you don't have a health care provider: Dial 2-1-1 to connect with a community or hospital-connected clinic.
